

MURDER OF GIRL SCIENTIST CONFESSED BY INDIAN

POLITICAL TREND IS UNFOLDING

Scattered Elections for Country Tuesday Are Being Watched Closely

BALANCE IS AT STAKE

Several States to Elect Chief Executives

Washington, Nov. 2.—(P)—With an eye to the 1932 national campaign, party leaders look to the outcome of scattered elections tomorrow for a definite political trend.

Whether the Republicans or Democrats will organize the incoming house may be decided by the results of five special congressional elections.

In New York, the strength of Governor Franklin Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith will be tested in their dispute over a forest conservation amendment sponsored by Roosevelt and opposed by the Democratic presidential nominee in 1928.

The Smith-Roosevelt split is being watched with close interest by political observers.

Prohibition is an issue in several of elections, while there is particular interest in the results of two normally Republican congressional districts which the Democrats hope to win.

The Democrats have assaulted the Republican strongholds in the First Ohio and the Eighth Michigan districts, but virtually concede the Second Pennsylvania to their opponents. They expect to retain the Twentieth Ohio and the Seventh New York without difficulty.

The present House lineup is Democrats, 214; Republicans 213; Farm Laborites one; vacancies seven. One of the two other vacancies usually Republican, will be filled December 1. Gaining this the Republicans would hold House control by one, if there is no change tomorrow in the political status of the five seats.

A Governor is to be elected in New Jersey. Democrats are claiming former Governor A. Harry Moore will win over David Baird, former Republican senator. A victory there, they contend, would be a rebuke to the national leadership of President Hoover during the economic crisis.

DIRIGIBLE ARMADA CRUISES OVER EAST

Lakehurst, N. J., Nov. 2.—(P)—The airship Akron went promenade through the seaboard skies today, making her first bow as queen of the Navy's aircraft to cities of the east.

Poking her graceful head into the air at 6:45 a. m., Eastern Standard time, she glided gently southward. First on the schedule was Washington, to be followed by bows to Philadelphia and Trenton, and in mid-afternoon, New York City. If time remains, the Akron plans to travel south from New York to Atlantic City before returning at dusk to her dock here.

The Los Angeles, seeming small compared with her huge sister, took off an hour ahead of the Akron and was to keep about three miles ahead of her on the entire journey. Two smaller airships were also in the lighter-than-air armada.

Aboard the Akron was a party of newspapermen.

CIGARET TAX YIELD $956,962 IN 2 MO.

Columbus, O.—(P)—Two months ago today the new state cigarette tax law became effective. Since that time the state has received $956,962 from the tax, State Treasurer Harry S. Day announced.

Washington, Nov. 2.—(P)—Chairman Fess today called the Republican National committee to meet here December 15 to select a city for the 1932 party convention.

'Get Wet' Advice To Democrats

Chicago Mayor Calls on Party to Take Stand on Prohibition

New York, Nov. 2.—(P)—Anton J. Cermak, the militantly anti-prohibition Mayor of Chicago, called upon the Democratic party today to do into next year's presidential campaign with a candidate who is "thoroughly wet."

Illinois democracy, he insisted, will demand an "out-and-out wet platform, and a candidate as wet as the plank he stands on." He expressed the further opinion that democracy should pick a candidate "of the Al Smith type."

Mayor Cermak said Illinois' 58 convention votes would be given to United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis, who he said, meets all the requirements of an "ultra-wet" candidate.

The Chicago Mayor expressed the opinion there would be enough votes en bloc to prevent any candidate's running away with the nomination until he had met the test on prohibition.

DIRE THREATS IN BRIDGE WAR

Oklahoma Governor Told Regular Army Bigger Than State Militia

Kansas City, Kas., Nov. 2.—(P)—Governor W. H. Murray's representatives were told point blank today by Federal Judge John C. Pollock that the regular army is bigger than the Oklahoma National guard which the militant state executive has called out again in the Red River bridge war.

Interrupting a hearing on a petition of the Red River Bridge Company for an order to close the Denison-Durant free bridge, which Murray opened to traffic last summer under martial law, and to prevent the state of Oklahoma from interfering with the company's parallel toll span, Judge Pollock said emphatically:

"The state militia is not bigger than the regular army. I know of one case in Oklahoma where the regular army was called out. It can be done again."

Three officers and twenty enlisted men of the Oklahoma National Guard went on duty at the free bridge today under Murray's orders to keep it open in the face of any action Judge Pollock might take. Murray has declared repeatedly that "inferior federal courts" are without authority to enforce orders when state martial law is declared.

No immediate clash of federal and state authority will result, however, as Judge Pollock refused to act on the injunction plea at this time.

He instructed the litigants to obtain a settlement in the Texas state courts of the bridge company's suit for $165,000 damages against the state of Texas for alleged breach of contract, and report back to him when this had been accomplished.

"There is a lot of foolishness about this case," said the court, "and I am getting tired of it."

Oklahoma's motion for dismissal of the injunction action was overruled.

FARM PRISONERS IN ROBBERY RAIDS

Cleveland, O., Nov. 2.—(P)—Possibility that inmates of state prisons might be making robbery raids into Cleveland was being investigated today as a result of the capture of a youth here who was supposed to be serving time at Apple Creek farm of the state reformatory.

The youth, Joseph Chilla and Mike Ross, released from the reformatory on parole, were apprehended yesterday by police.

They said their companions, who escaped, were Henry Newman and Glenn Walls, prisoners at Apple Creek. Records at Apple Creek revealed Newman and Walls answered roll call at 6 a. m., yesterday, a few hours after Chilla and Ross were captured.

BUCK HELD BY FEDERAL AUTHORITY

Special Agent Spends All Summer in Disguise to Solve Mystery

WITNESS ALSO IS HELD

Mutilated Body Found Last July in Arizona

Washington, Nov. 2.—(P)—The Justice Department announced today a confession has been obtained from Goley Seymour, young Apache Indian, that he killed Miss Henrietta Schmerler on the White River Indian reservation in Arizona last July.

Bureau of investigation agents reported Seymour confessed he criminally assaulted and then killed the young Columbia university research worker.

He is being held on the reservation and will be tried in federal court.

The arrest was made by agents of the El Paso office. Miss Schmerler's body was found in a ditch on the reservation.

All Indian cases come under jurisdiction of federal courts.

J. A. Street, a special agent of the bureau, spent the summer in disguise among the Apaches to work on the case. In addition to obtaining a full confession from Seymour, Street was described as having also gotten from Robert Gatewood a statement that he witnessed the murder. Gatewood is in jail at White River as a government witness.

Street returned from the Indian country with his solution of the crime just as department officials were beginning to worry over his long absence. They had not heard from him for several weeks.

Miss Schmerler was killed while she was living on the reservation studying tribal customs of the Apaches in connection with her work at Columbia.

AQUEDUCT BLASTED IN DESERT CANYON

Los Angeles, Nov. 2.—(P)—The Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light was notified by telephone today that sections of the aqueduct bringing water from the high Sierra watersheds to the city had been dynamited.

The nature of the damage was not revealed, but the dynamiting was reported to have taken place in the Jaw Bone canyon, near Mohave.

Workers were ordered to the scene from Mohave. No danger of a water shortage in Los Angeles was said to exist. Nearby reservoirs containing an ample supply until repairs are made.

SHOE STORE ROBBED

Cincinnati, O.—(P)—The Regal Shoe Company, with an office on Fountain Square in the heart of the business district, was robbed Monday of $500, William W. Whitworth, store manager, reported to police.

The money represented Saturday's receipts. Whitworth said at first he thought the robber was an official of the company.

RUSSIA PROMISES TO CEASE "DUMPING" WHEAT

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 2.—(By The Canadian Press)—The Toronto Globe today publishes a copyrighted cable from its European correspondent, which is, in part, as follows:

"It can now be said quite definitely that the Soviet union will export no wheat this year or next."

"This statement was made to me by M. Dovgalevsky, Soviet Ambassador to France. The Ambassador added that the decision to discontinue the policy of wheat dumping by his country was made following the signing of a new trade

Tangled Confessions By Girl Accuse Man Of Murder Of Wife

Admits Illicit Affair, Saying She Lured Victim to Woods and Chloroformed Her So that Her Married Lover Came Later and Cut Throat

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—(P)—Supplanted three earlier statements, Clara Fish, buxom 19-year-old domestic, signed a fourth confession early today in which she said Walter Maddux, 32, slashed his wife to death with a razor in a lonely woods Thursday after she had lured Mrs. Maddux there and rendered her unconscious with ether. Maddux declared Miss Fish, lied.

The statement was the first in which Miss Fish had implicated Maddux. He was arrested.

In her latest confession, which police said she made voluntarily, the girl, who roomed at the Maddux home, said that two months ago Maddux told her he wished to "get rid" of his wife and asked her to aid in killing her.

Thursday, she said, she and Maddux planned the story they would tell to clear themselves in the contemplated death of the woman. She said she had earlier purchased a can of ether and a razor and turned them over to Maddux.

Miss Fish related that Thursday

SEVERE QUAKE ROCKS JAPAN

Buildings Collapse and Casualties Reported; Loss Unestimated

Tokyo, Nov. 2.—(P)—A series of "rather severe" earthquakes shook the island of Shikoku and Kyushu this evening. A number of casualties were reported, caused chiefly by houses collapsing.

Kyushu is the most southern of the three principal islands of Japan, separated from Korea by the straight of Korea and from Honshu Island by the straight of Shikoku. It has a population of more than 6,000,000.

Shikoku Island is south of Honshu Island, with a population of nearly 4,000,000.

Although reports were incomplete late tonight, it appeared the quake had been most severe in Miyazaki Prefecture of Kyushu, where dispatches said a number of persons were killed or badly injured.

Roadways cracked in the vicinity of Kumamoto City, where a number of houses collapsed.

The town of Fukuoka from which Charles and Anne Lindbergh took off recently when they left for China, was shaken as was the city of Nagasaki.

TRUST FUNDS ARE PREFERRED CLAIMS

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—(P)—Trust funds of every kind in closed Ohio banks are to be treated as preferred claims in liquidations, Common Pleas Judge James C. Oglevee of Carroll county decided today in a case arising from the liquidation of the Cummings Trust Company of Carrollton.

The question was raised by State Superintendent of Banks Ira J. Fulton, who asked Judge Oglevee for instructions with reference to payment of certain undistributed trust money in the bank.

RUSSIA PROMISES TO CEASE "DUMPING" WHEAT

agreement with France. "As the Soviet Union exported a full 110,000,000 bushels last year, and the wheat crop in other European countries is decidedly of low grade this year, the announced change in the Soviet policy ought to result in considerable benefit to Canada, for the reduction of the wheat supply, thereby obtained will be more than sufficient to absorb the heavy carryover shown at the close of the last crop year in the Dominion."

"As a result of Russia's proposed inactivity on the one hand, and demands of China on the other, wheat exports are most likely to be increased by some 250,000,000 bushels. This means that total exports from the four great wheat-producing countries—Argentina, United States, Canada and Australia—will exceed 900,000,000. In Australia and the Argentine the wheat crop will be considerably lower owing to bad weather, and the appearance of destructive parasites. All these factors improve Canada's situation. And make it more likely that the Canadian crop of this year and the carry-over of last will be disposed of at a good premium."

HOOVER-NAVY BATTLE GROWS MORE INTENSE

President's Critic Loses Some Support of Big Navy League

Washington, Nov. 2.—(P)—The strange situation of President Hoover battling openly with a militant big navy organization while a cabinet officer struck out at a pacifist foundation today swirled about the navy.

The President was working to ward a showdown with the Navy league and particularly its president, William H. Gardiner, who described him as showing "abysmal ignorance" of naval matters. Secretary Adams charged the world peace foundation with interpreting national defense statistics "in a manner inimical to the United States and in a manner favorable to the national defense interests of foreign powers."

The bitter dispute between Mr. Hoover and the Navy league entered its second week with Gardiner lacking the full support of his membership. Henry Breckinridge, a former president of the league, and a democratic assistant secretary of war under Woodrow Wilson, yesterday broke ranks.

DISARMAMENT PLAN ALL IN TALK ONLY

Geneva, November 2.—(P)—The League of Nations secretariat today held affirmative replies of fourteen nations to the proposal for a year's armaments truce, but wondered, nevertheless, whether the agreement is in force or not.

Yesterday was the date for the beginning of the truce, which was originally proposed by Italy, Great Britain, Germany and France. None of these four nations has yet officially reported its attitude.

On the other hand, acceptances of the proposal are on file from the United States, Russia, Japan and 11 others, but all are conditioned on the participation of other states, and some have other exceptions.

MATRIMONIAL KILLER WRITING LIFE STORY

Moundsville, W. Va., Nov. 2.—(P)—Harry F. Powers, confessed slayer of two women and three children, paused in the writing of his life story today to confer with his attorney, J. Edward Law, on matters pertaining to Powers' trial, which gets under way this month.

Law arrived here last night, just too late to be admitted to see the prisoner, who is in solitary confinement in the West Virginia state prison. He refused to comment on his visit.

Passenger Trains Hit By D. T. & I.

Permission to Make Line Exclusively for Freight Asked of Commission

Columbus, O., Nov. 2.—(P)—The Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, formerly operated by Henry Ford and now by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company today petitioned the State Utilities Commission for authority to abandon all passenger train service and conduct the line only as a freight carrier.

The railroad now operates one train daily each way between Detroit and Ironton, O., passing through Toledo, Lima, Springfield, Washington Court House and numerous other Ohio cities. It has no service on Sundays.

In the application the railroad said the passenger patronage had dwindled steadily in recent years until now it is operating at an "enormous annual loss."

The commission assigned the application for hearing Dec. 10. During the past two years the railroad has been reducing its passenger service on branch lines claiming a loss of income as a result of lack of patronage.

PUBLIC IS BARRED FROM NAN BRITTON LIBEL SUIT TRIAL

Judge Intimates Writer of 'President's Daughter' Has Chance to Win

Toledo, O., Nov. 2.—(P)—Although his words are not a formal verdict, Federal Judge John M. Killits announced today that the book entitled, "The Answer to the President's Daughter" contained libelous statements against Miss Nan Britton, author of another book which claimed the late President Warren G. Harding was the father of her 12 year old daughter.

Judge Killits expressed this opinion shortly after the trial was resumed of Miss Britton's $50,000 libel suit against C. A. Klunk, Marion, O., hotel keeper. Miss Britton claimed "The Answer to the President's Daughter" reflected discredit on her reputation, and named Klunk on the ground that he helped circulate it.

Judge Killits today barred newspaper men and all other spectators from his court during the remainder of the trial.

Counsel for Miss Britton, resumed reading her book to the jury today.

The suit alleges Klunk circulated a book entitled, "The Answer to the President's Daughter" (Continued on Page six)

TALK TO MARS, EH!

PROFESSOR OF PHYSICS HITS ON PLAN TO SEND LIGHT BEAM THROUGH SPACE

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 2.—(P)—An inhabitant of Mars, looking through a powerful telescope, some day may see a ray of light transmitted from the earth.

Dr. R. B. Brode, associate professor of physics at the University of California, asserted today that if it were possible to broadcast red light on an extremely short wave length, a Maritan, looking through a telescope at the right time in the proper direction, probably would detect its gleam from the earth, 35,000,000 miles away.

The scientists made the statement in discussing the announcement from London Saturday that Professor E. V. Appleton had located what was believed to be the atmospheric layer above the earth which ordinary radio waves cannot penetrate. Professor Appleton found this year 130 miles above the earth.

MOBILIZATION PROGRESSES AS JAPS ADVANCE

Manchuria and Mongolia Storm Center—World Peace Threatened

LEAGUE AID SPURNED

Efforts to Settle Row Futile Thus Far

Tokyo, Nov. 2.—(P)—Japanese troops of occupation pushed farther to the west and north in Manchuria and Mongolia today while persistent reports that China had entered into a secret agreement with Moscow for Russian assistance were considered by the Japanese cabinet.

The American government also was reported to have interested itself in the conflicting reports of Russian mobilization along the Siberian-Manchurian borders and to have sent George Hanson, its consul general at Harbin to Northern Manchuria to investigate.

Reports of troop movements indicated the Japanese were edging farther into the Chinese territory and closer to the Russian sphere of influence, in Northern Manchuria, but had not reached territory in which Moscow is primarily interested.

Official circles here made it clear that the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Kirkin, South Central Manchuria, was not an indication of Tokyo's willingness to abide by the League of Nations' desire for evacuation of the occupied district by November 16.

Both the foreign and war offices explained that conditions at Kirkin had become more or less stabilized and that, therefore, it was decided to transfer 600 soldiers, some to Supingkai, Manchuria, and others to Taonan and Chenchiatun, Mongolia, just across the Manchurian line. About 600 troops (Continued on Page Six)

CAPONE'S BROTHER TO TAKE RAP NOW

Washington, November 2.—(P)—Ralph Capone, brother of Al Capone, was today refused a review by the supreme court of his conviction of having made false statements in an attempt to compromise his income taxes.

The action ends the gangster's hope of a legal escape from his three-year sentence and a fine of $10,000.

Other gangsters have been watching the case.

Obscured somewhat by the fame of his notorious brother, Al, Ralph nevertheless found underworld operations very profitable. At his trial, the government introduced evidence to prove that in a period of five years preceding April, 1929, he banked more than $1,800,000.

RUM BOAT SEIZED WITH $30,000 CARGO

New York, Nov. 2.—(P)—Machine gun bullets cracking through her stern, and the pilot house as the coast guard patrol No. 2,290 sprayed her with lead halted the 55 foot speedboat Patricia in Gravesend bay today and put $30,000 worth of whisky in the hands of the government.

The Patricia can do thirty miles an hour. Boatswain Mitchell, in charge of the patrol boat, said later and was about to show her heels to the government craft, turning and twisting at top speed, when Mitchell ordered the machine-gun into action.

Three men were taken prisoners and the Patricia was taken to the barge office where five hundred cases of whiskey in pints was unloaded from her. The Patricia is out of Boston, officials said.

AMERICAN "CRUSOES" REACH CANAL ZONE STOUTER THAN EVER

Oily Cocoanuts And Wild Hogs Were Castaways Only Food

Balboa, Canal Zone, Nov. 2.—(AP)—The three Americans who lived the life of Robinson Crusoe on lonely Cocos Island for six months arrived here on the U. S. S. Sacramento stouter than ever before in their lives.

Their principal articles of food during the time they were marooned on the island were oily cocoanuts and wild hogs, which was the reason they got back to civilization looking as though they had had anything but a hard time of it. Paul Stachwick and Gordon Branner were at least twenty pounds overweight and Elmer Paliser, the leader of the trio also had put on a bit although less than his companions. The castaways, who took refuge on the island when their small boat was wrecked, were suffering from a mild form of anemia resulting from low blood pressure when they were taken aboard the Sacramento, medical officers found, but they looked fit when they got here. Despite the fact that they had been well provided with cocoanuts and wild hogs, the three men had active appetites when they got aboard the rescue ship. Civilization's food looked good to them and they stowed it away at a rate considered most impressive by the admiring crew.

The hero of the rescue was chief quartermaster Leo Robert Michelfelder of the Sacramento, a native of Tloga, Pa.

Michelfelder's good eyes spotted the three men as they stood in a grove of cocoanuts palms before a background of steep cliffs and a plunging waterfall. From the naval vessel the three figures looked more like tree stumps than human beings.

The castaways had not determined what they will do but Paliser expects to go to New York when he leaves Balboa.

AUTO HITS BRIDGE WOMAN BADLY HURT. ANOTHER SERIOUS CRASH AT RATTLESNAKE SPAN

G. W. Reil, Columbus, and Miss Keintze, Columbus, in a Durant coupe, were injured, Miss Keintze seriously, when the car in which they were riding, collided with the south side of the Rattlesnake bridge on the CCC highway, six miles west of this city about 7:30 Sunday evening, and was wrecked in the bridge.

The car was coming toward this city at a very rapid rate of speed, and the treacherous turn at the west approach of the bridge, which has been the cause of several serious accidents at the structure, was responsible for the mishap.

After striking the end of this bridge the car swung across to the North side of the bridge, struck one of the upright supports, broke it, and then overturned in the bridge, badly damaging the car and causing considerable damage to the bridge.

Reil escaped with severe cuts and bruises, but Miss Keintze was a mass of cuts and bruises and sustained serious injury to her back that caused her condition to be serious.

After being cared for by Dr. L. L. Brock, they were taken to Columbus by friends.

W. L. DOWDEN DIES AT HOME IN SABINA

W. L. Dowden, 74, of Sabina, brother of T. O. Dowden, of this city passed away at his home Sunday morning at one o'clock, after an illness that had lasted for sometime.

Mr. Dowden, who was engaged in blacksmithing in Sabina for 35 years, and retired eight years ago, is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. E. R. Day, of Sabina and another brother, A. N. Dowden, of Dayton. Also by one sister, Mrs. Charles Hough, of Springfield, O.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock, at the M. P. Church in Sabina, and burial made in the Sabina cemetery under the direction of H. L. Littleton.

MANY FLOWERS STILL BLOOMING

At the present time a great many flowers, such as dahlias, cosmos, and other late fall flowers, are still in bloom because the frost or freezes have not been severe enough to kill them.

Other plants likewise have escaped being killed, a thing almost unprecedented on the first days of November in recent years.

A number of persons have reported picking red raspberries, recently, and declare the flavor has been equal to that of early summer berries.

BRIGGS ADMITS BROTHER HELPED

SHERIFF MAKES TRIP TO SOLVE BURGLARY

Sheriff Minton went to New Boston, a suburb of Portsmouth, Saturday, taking with him Reynold Briggs, the New Boston youth who was captured at the F. M. Rothrock premises on the Chillicothe road one night about one week ago as he was in the act of stealing gasoline from the Rothrock car, and there learned that the fellow with Briggs was his brother, Chester, and not two other men that Briggs had indicated.

Briggs, confronted with information obtained by Sheriff Minton, finally admitted that it was his brother, and the glass taken from a Buick car owned by Herbert Rothrock, was found in Chester Briggs Buick car, but Chester had fled. The New Boston and Portsmouth authorities are now looking for him.

Briggs was returned to this city to face charges filed here.

FOR COAL STEALING

Harley Arnold, arrested late in the night for stealing coal at the McDonald coal yards, where he was taken with a push cart and coal by Merchant's Policeman, Foster Winkle, drew $25 and the costs when he entered a plea of guilty before Mayor Curtin. He was released when he agreed to pay.

DR. E. F. TODHUNTER NOT A CANDIDATE

Dr. E. F. Todhunter, whose name appears on the ballot as a candidate for member of the city board of education, announced Monday that because he feels that he would not have the time to devote to the duties of board member that he had withdrawn from the contest, and asks the voters not to vote for him at Tuesday's primary election.

The withdrawal of Dr. Todhunter leaves the following candidates to be voted upon Tuesday: Mrs. Morna Chapman, Roy Robinson, Stanley F. Schneider, Othol O. Wade and Harry E. Wood. There are three members to elect.

PNEUMONIA FATAL TO SMALL CHILD

Betty Jane McCann, aged two months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McCann, died Saturday night at 10:45 at her home in this city, after an illness of three or four weeks, due to pneumonia.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at the Christian Union Church, Gregg Street, and interment under the direction of the Klaver Funeral Home, will be made in the Washington cemetery.

MISS DELLA HUNTER IS CALLED BY DEATH

Miss Della Hunter, 51, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Verna Cook, near New Holland at 10:00 o'clock Monday morning following a comparative short but serious illness. Miss Hunter had been a teacher in the public schools of East Liverpool for more than 12 years. Several weeks ago she was stricken with appendicitis and underwent an operation. It was found then that there were other complications which barred her recovery. Every weapon of science was brought into service in the fight against death. But it was in vain.

PAIR AFTER AUTO HAVE CLOSE CALL

OWNER WATCHES WOULD BE
THIEVES WITH CUN

An officer from the state of New York, who was enroute home from a trip farther west, stopped at the Cherry Hotel in this city a night or two ago, parking his car at the curb near the hotel for the night.

Late in the night, being awake, his attention was attracted by a noise coming from the vicinity of where he had parked his car. He arose, went to the window of his room, and saw two men about his automobile, evidently trying to steal it. Obtaining his pistol he returned to the window, and prepared to shoot to kill if the men succeeded in starting away with his car. However the pair left the car after trying in vain to move it, and probably escaped death, as the officer was an expert shot and the two would-be-thieves were within easy range.

HUSBAND SOUGHT WIFE FATALLY HURT

MEMOIR

Albert P. Ortman was born Jan. 26, 1866, and departed this life Oct. 28, 1931, aged 65 years, 9 months and 2 days. He was the son of George and Sarah Ortman. He spent his entire life near the place of his birth five miles west of Washington C. H. He never married, so made his home with his parents until their passing to the better land, and has since resided at the old homestead having his sister, Mrs. Ida Jones as a devoted companion. He is also survived by one brother, Edward M. Ortman of Washington C. H., and many relatives and friends who will sadly miss his cheerful words and kindly greetings which was his natural heritage. He was a true brother, a devoted friend and a loyal neighbor. He united with the Sugar Creek Baptist church when he was a young man and has since lived a Christian life, doing many deeds of kindness, and his generosity was one of his many fine qualities. His health has been impaired for several years but his last illness lasted only a little more than two days, during which every care was given him by his sister, brother, neighbors, and friends. His passing will leave a vacant place that will be difficult to fill. This expression of esteem is prompted by an acquaintance of more than fifty years.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our neighbors and friends, also Rev. Blume for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our brother and uncle.

MEET TO DISCUSS HOG SITUATION

THREE MEETINGS SCHEDULED
FOR NOVEMBER 12 AND 13

A series of three important meetings are scheduled for the livestock farmers next week, arranged by County Agricultural Agent Montgomery.

The meetings constitute a second series of discussions on the present economic situation but this time will be devoted specifically to the present livestock conditions with emphasis upon the future outlook in the production cycle.

The meetings have been arranged for the evening of November 12 at 8 P. M. at the Smith-Hughes Agricultural Rooms, Jeffersonville High School. On November 12, 2 P. M. in the basement rooms of the Good Hope High School and on the same date at 8 P. M. at the County Farm Bureau Office in Washington.

These meetings are expected to be of unusual interest to the farmers of the county as they will deal primarily on the hog situation which represents the major source of income of Fayette County farmers.

MRS. MARTHA BRYANT DIES EARLY MONDAY

Mrs. Mrs. Martha A. Bryant, 88, colored, died in the Fayette County Home, at 12:30 Monday morning. She had been in ill health for sometime.

Mrs. Bryant is survived by one son, Charles, barber, of this city, and by two grandchildren.

The body was removed to the Hughes and Parrett Funeral Home, where it will remain until Tuesday evening, when it will be taken to the home of her son, Charles, in East Temple street.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the A. M. E. Church, and interment made in the Washington cemetery.

JOHN C. McMORROW FUNERAL SERVICES

John C. McMorrow was laid to rest in Washington cemetery, Monday forenoon, following funeral services held at the House of Prayer in Washington avenue, at ten o'clock.

Rev. Henry Leeth conducted the services, which were attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

Medrith Scowden, Gladys Siebold and Pearl Leeth sang "I Shall See Him Face to Face" and "There Will be No Sorrow There." Lyda Rumer accompanying at the piano.

The pallbearers were: Charles Louderman, Alva Merritt, Till Mustine, Fred Wood, John Bevan and H. O. Scott.

WISMAR RESIGNS TAKES NEW WORK

L. H. Wismar, of Columbus, who is division engineer in Fayette, Pickaway, Madison, Franklin, Marion, Morrow Union and Delaware counties has tendered his resignation effective November 15.

Wismar, who is well known here and has done much in connection with state road work in Fayette county, it is understood, is to become manager of the Ohio Colproctiva Co., a Sandusky paving material firm with offices in Columbus.

Wismar, prior to becoming division engineer, was surveyor in Wood and Sandusky counties and city engineer of Bowling Green.

Calm Life the Happy One
 Do you experience blue Mondays, despairing Tuesdays, exalted Wednesdays, enthusiastic Thursdays, weary Fridays and impatient Saturdays, not to speak of exhausted Sundays. If you do you are wasting your vitality, muddling your work and wrecking your happiness.

Perhaps every one of us is more or less given to fits of exaggerated, uncontrolled emotions. Especially this may be true of those whose employment exacts nervous drain. When these periods of depression, or anger, or egotism become frequent the unfortunate vic-time is styled, in the common parlance, temperamental. And to be thought temperamental is to be thought a bit queer, or unbalanced, which is perhaps the truth.

Yet there is none of us who cannot if he will, control his emotional processes and conquer his moods.
 Subduing the moods is not merely a matter of exercising will-power, though that has its place. It is for many of us a matter of exercise and fresh air, good food regularly eaten, good books regularly read, temperance in most things, and abstinence in some. Sensible living strengthens the power of self-control and simplifies the problem.

If Mondays are usually blue, try a new regime next Sunday. Rise early, eat regularly but not too much, find mental and spiritual poise at your church service or from a good book, or better, from both.
 Walk out to the fresh air. Above all do not exhaust yourself in a wild search for recreation. Sensible Sundays makes bright Mondays.

Moods are nature's danger signals.

No Magic Solution
 In every village large enough to boast a crossroads and in all communications of more or less metropolitan proportions one is subjected to a refrain, in the tempo of the dirge, about reckless drivers, traffic congestion, mangled pedestrians, and jay-walkers.
 Everyday brings forth a new wail from some police official sounding an unmistakable note of despair and surrender. Each time careless motorists are excoriated, accidents are enumerated, new extraordinary measures are conceived and discussed and the usual lamentations and exclamations of despair are in order.

Of course modern traffic constitutes a problem, but it is one of those problems which will eventually solve itself through the education of the public. In the strictest sense no accident is unavoidable, but the phenomenal growth of the automobile traffic on streets and highways built for wagons makes accidents inevitable. Time will bring cooperation and understanding between police, pedestrians and motorists and when it does the traffic problem will have been solved.

Christmas Is Coming
 Christmas is coming, and much more rapidly than most of us have paused to fully realize. Here we are approaching Thanksgiving, with snow squalls
 in the air, alcohol in the radiator, Christmas club checks soon to be distributed, Christmas Seals on sale and pictures of the first Christmas trees appearing in the newspapers.

There is something about the season that gets into the blood. There is a magic in the air, a thrill in the heart, a light-heartedness and a kindness that pass all understanding.

Christmas is coming, shout the little folks, and Christmas is coming, is echoed in our own breasts.
 Soon we shall enter fully into the spirit of the occasion after a manner unusual a month ago. Soon purse strings will be opened. There will be gifts for the loved ones and relief for the needy on a scale unknown at any other time of year.

Christmas is coming, and it is a good thing, too.
 It is well for us that once in a twelve-month an occasion comes that takes us away from the pleasure of getting and introduces us to the only real and permanent joy of life—which is giving.

RATIFICATION OF MORATORIUM NOW ASSURED

Opposition To Hoover Plan Develops As Congressmen Gath- er For Session In Capital

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington, Nov. 2.—Congress-sional ratification of President Hoover's foreign debt moratorium generally has been regarded hitherto as a foregone conclusion.

It begins to look now like less of a certainty.

A great deal of opposition to the plan is developing as the lawmakers gather in Washington. There will be a fight, anyway. Whatever may be its final outcome, it is quite among the possibilities that ratification will not have been voted by December 15.

This, in itself, will involve an embarrassing situation.

On that date the next batch of payments will be due to Uncle Sam from America's European debtors.
 Having proceeded on the supposition that it will not be required,
 they will not have the money ready.
 Lacking congress' approval, President Hoover will be in no position to offer any further concessions.

A more uncomfortable predicament for Mr. Hoover and the debtor governments would be difficult to imagine.

Had the president called an extra session of congress directly after broadcasting his moratorium program, ratification of his policy unquestionably would have followed in short order.

First comment, regardless of its origin, was largely in the moratorium's favor.

At first thought, with hardly an exception, legislators evidently were of the opinion that the an-nouncement's effect would be to improve business at least temporarily.
 Naturally, even anti-administrationists were chary of appearing to align themselves against business betterment.

Business, however, has not improved, if at all, as much or as fast as was expected.

Skeptics concerning the moratorium's merits have had an interval to recover their nerve and venture a few adverse criticisms. They have had time especially to rub in the idea that the American taxpayer will have to foot the bill for every cent's worth of relief granted by the United States to Europe.
 The supplemental concept that one debt postponement is the inevitable precursor of subsequent pos-tponements and ultimately of another drastic slashing of war indebtedness, doubtless leading at last to outright cancellation, now is being strongly emphasized.

In the course of the coming controversy the official account of the recent conversations between Mr.
 Hoover and the French Premier Pierre Laval is sure to figure extensively, and not to the moratorium's advantage.

As Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota remarked on the day of the Gallic statesman's arrival in Washington, "Whatever may be the object of M. Laval's visit, it is for

EDITOR'S MAIL BOX

To the voters of W. C. H. Ohio:
 When you go to the polls Tuesday, let's think about make a job.
 Seriously, why not make a big job
 —each and every voter should think about the ones who will be out of work this winter. Many of them have large families to clothe, feed and keep warm. Unless they have steady work, they can't do it properly. We who have steady work should think how gloomy it would be for us to go home and find our little ones hungry and cold, crying for the proper food in order that they might go to bed happy because they had a real supper. What would we do? Now think about the ones who are going to do this very thing unless the voters make a job for them.
 The mothers would be happy because they have food to cook for the children, their eyes bright, and a smile to greet you when you come home at night. Would not this be real? We can make it so or the opposite. Which will be do?
 Let us quit walking in our own mire for the sake of health and the future as well as our city and Fayette county. Vote for the sanitary sewer before it is too late.
 We will have it to do anyway.
 Why not now? Pinch ourselves now and help the ones who are gloomy. Make them a job and happy at the same time. Wake up.
 Put it over. It will make us glad later on. When you and I sit down to our table with our children to a full meal, think about the little kiddies who don't have hardly anything. Let's don't be too selfish. Please vote for this sanitary sewer.

A CITIZEN.

Probably the most important feature of the new proposed sanitary sewer and disposal plant for Washington C. H. is that it will stop the pollution of Paint creek.
 Farmers, sportsmen and health officials are all of the opinion that this should be done as quickly as possible.
 The farmer is by far the best patron of the stores of Washington
 C. H. The people of the town in exchange for his patronage, pollute the stream upon which he is dependent for his stock, for many miles. It may be said that this is just a small percentage of the farmers that is affected, but does not every farmer feel that the attitude would be the same toward him if he lived along the stream?
 It is claimed by the sportsmen that Paint creek from Washington
 C. H. to its mouth should be the finest fishing stream in the state.
 It has been almost worthless for fishing by pollution. It is no longer pleasant to use the stream for swimming, as the stones and bed

no country's good but France's.

Just at a juncture, too, when bimetallic sentiment is showing a formidable revival throughout the United States, the statement summarizing the result of the Hoover-Laval conference refers to "the importance of monetary stability as an essential factor in the restoration of normal economic life in the world, in which the maintenance of the gold standard in France and the United States will serve as a major influence."

That this suggestion is taken far from kindly by proponents of easier money doctrines goes without saying.

Perhaps still more to the point,
 as particularly stressing the moratorium issue, is the attitude assumed by "tariff reform" lawmakers.

"If," says Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee, notably this group's spokesman, "our country and other countries under our leadership are to pursue, as they have been doing for some years, a policy of ultra high tariffs and severe restrictions upon international trade, so that nations cannot exchange surpluses in order to pay external indebted-nesses, few things in the future are more certain than the repudiation or forgiveness of the $11,000,000,000 in war debts due to America."

"Conversations and movements for repeated moratoriums are but preliminary steps in the certain direction of the early wiping out of such debts. Any discussion save in the light of these facts is futile."

Congressional indorsement of the originally-proposed one-year moratorium clearly would have been safest at an extra session.
 Even, however, at the coming regular winter session, it is unlikely it would now be facing the threat of really serious opposition, were it uncomplicated by talk of subsequent moratoriums—even before the original one has been acted on.
 Indeed, it is more than mere talk.
 President Hoover and Premier Laval are jointly on record as recognizing that, "in so far as inter-governmental obligations are concerned, prior to the expiration of the Hoover year of postponement some agreement regarding them may be necessary."

This is vague, but sufficient to furnish material for a great deal of argument on Capitol Hill in the next few weeks.

Poetry For Today

SACRILEGE

As I drove along a by-way,
 Far from the beaten road,
 I saw a little, burial plot,—
 Some dear one's last abode:
 A few small trees had grown above
 The consecrated ground,
 And underneath their scanty shade
 The farm stock gathered 'round;
 No barrier or fence or wall
 Restrained their trampling feet;
 It grieved me sore to see the brutes
 Profane this loved retreat.

I cannot comprehend or grasp
 The workings of a mind
 That to all sense of reverence
 And sacredness is blind;
 He must, indeed, be reft of all Gentility and grace,
 Who would permit the sacrilege
 Of this old burial place;
 In veneration, deep, sincere,
 I hold each humble mound;
 It matters not what creed or race
 To me—'Tis holy ground.

 of the condition of the water.

Probably most important is the danger to the health of the community. Streams may be polluted for years without affecting the health of residents living on its banks. But some year usually comes when disease becomes rampant in a community because of a polluted stream.

We have no right to throw our have the right to make a sewage

THE STATE BOND ISSUE

On next Tuesday the voters must decide whether the State of Ohio shall issue $7,500,000 of bonds to secure funds for the use of the public welfare institutions of the state, and thus meet her responsibility to the unfortunates in these institutions, who as some one has said "but for the grace of God might be us."

Most thinking people are anxious to relieve the situation in these institutions, for example, the Ohio penitentiary, which was built for 1,800 prisoners and now houses 4,000. The first last year, which cost the lives of 322 prisoners, was the direct result of overcrowding and the situation was presented to the nation as a disgrace to Ohio.
 It is easy to forget, and the condition remains unchanged. Other institutions are in the same condition and this bond issue is for the purpose of relieving these conditions in 22 of these institutions.

Ohio has no bonded indebtedness except a small balance due on the Ohio Soldiers' Bonus which will be paid in full this year. Within the past eight years the State of New York has twice acted to relieve similar conditions as these which face Ohio and has passed by overwhelming majorities, two issues of $50,000,000 each, for welfare institutions. Ohio must meet her responsibility and the American Legion believes it should be done on Nov. 3.

The money will be used for land
 new buildings, rehabilitation, fire protection, and permanent improvements, none will be used for salaries or operating expenses. It will be available at once and construction work will provide for additional employment.

These bonds will be retired from general taxes received by the State of Ohio and not from any special tax on real estate.

A building construction program will help to cure the depression and will aid unemployment.

A NEW YORKER AT LARGE

By WILLIAM GAINES

NEW YORK—Caught on the run:
 Rushing to catch a Broadway bus
 at Seventy-first street—

Two moving vans drawn up at the curb at the same address. Two huskies of the rival crews argue about a mixup in moving orders, each claiming the job.

We stop to watch and miss the bus. The belligerents come to blows and one draws blood from the other's lip. Spectators encircle them, 20 deep. A patrolman shoves his way through the crowd and separates the batters.

A pale little woman explains: "I asked them to come two days ago.
 When they didn't, I called these other men."

Hurrying for a curtain rise—
 Two men stop to gesticulate, blocking the solid sidewalk, proce-sion on Forty-second.

"Lookit," one shouts, "just look-
 it. He sells me a $2 wrist watch for 25 cents, yeah, and here the hands are painted on the face."

He throws away the paper wrapper in disgust and turns to seek out the spiling peddler who, for obvious reasons, never stops in the same spot longer than monetarily.

In a taxi, speeding to a soiree—
 The driver takes the corner at Forty-eighth and Madison on two wheels. "Say," we yell, "we're in favor of getting there, but we want to be alive." "Sorry, chief," the chauffeur grins. "Guess I feel kinda reckless tonight. It's twins at home and I ain't been right for two days."

Waiting to board a subway express at Grand Central—A nattily attired young fellow steps briskly from the emerging horde. Intentionally, it appears, he bumps into a blonde, waiting to get into the car. Blazing, she slaps at the fellow and misses by inches.

 "Oh, don't bother," she says to a stranger who shares her resentment and shows signs of light.
 Composed, she takes her seat. The sheik is lost in the shuffle.
 "Step lively, please."

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at half past three o'clock, when Miss Sarah Elizabeth Swearingen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Swearingen, of near Circleville, became the bride of Mr. Charles Pugsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pugsley, of Mt. Sterling.

The ring ceremony was impressively performed, at the home of the bride, by Rev. Johnson, rector of the Chillicothe Episcopal church. The spacious home was a bower of autumn flowers.

The bride was wearing a modish gown of black velvet and carried bride's roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. Harold Drury, of London, sister of the bridegroom, preceded the bride as the strains of the wedding march sounded. Her gown was of garnet velvet, trimmed in old lace and she carried Ward roses. The brother of the bride acted as best man.

After the ceremony a delectable wedding collation was served and Mr. and Mrs. Pugsley left for a wedding trip. The bride is an attractive girl with many friends who are extending best wishes to the happy young couple. The bridegroom, whose family is one of the oldest in Fayette County, has a large connection and is quite well known. He has been engaged in farming, his future plans not yet matured.

Among those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pugsley, Mt. Sterling, and daughter, Mrs. Harold Drury, London, Mrs. James Glascock, an aunt of the bridegroom, her daughter, Mrs. James C. Beam and son, Carroll, of Cincinnati, Dr. Carey Persinger, an uncle, and Mrs. Persinger, and Miss Fannie Persinger, an aunt, of this city.

Mrs. Hoy O. Simons, assisted by her daughter, Miss Helen and son, Frederick, handsomely entertained a dinner Sunday in honor of the birthday of Mr. Simons. It was entirely a family dinner, the guests including Mr. Simons' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Simons, of Fredericktown, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Smoots, of Mt. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Simons and family, of Cincinnati.

The dinner was an elaborate one of delicious viands served at a beautiful table, centered with big yellow chrysanthemums. There was a gorgeous birthday cake, frosted in white and lighted with yellow candles. The cake was baked by Miss Helen Simons and called forth enthusiastic appreciation.

The afternoon was one of delightful family sociability, the honor guest, although completely surprised, rising to the occasion and contributing his full share of entertainment.

One of the most enjoyable of family affairs was a pot luck dinner Sunday at the home of Mrs. Ella Thompson and daughter, Miss Edna, in honor of several birthdays. This is an annual celebration, held last year at the home of Mr. Howard Reid, near Jeffersonville.

Mrs. Thompson, whose birthday was one of those remembered, and daughter extended the hospitality of the home cordially and did everything to make the day pleasurable.

The dinner was a sumptuous feast, with everything appetizing in home cooked viands bountifully served.

Participating in the affair with Mrs. Thompson and daughter were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reid and family, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Reid, of Jeffersonville, Mr. and Mrs. Will Reid, of Jamestown, Mrs. Charles A. Reid, Mrs. William H. May, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutson, and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Stokesbury, Miss Metha Patton, Mrs. Sam Nelson, of Bucyrus, Mrs. Nellie Tracey, Mr. Lawson Stuckey.

A number of local thespians, including those known as pupils of singing or dancing ability of a high order, have been actively engaged in rehearsals the past week for the snappy new musical show, "Page The Prince," which is to be staged at the High School Auditorium on the evenings of November 11 and 12, under the auspices of the Phi Beta Psi sorority.

"Page The Prince" is described as a highly romantic musical comedy. The scenes are laid in the Cafe "Little Gondolivia" in New York and in the mythical country by that name, somewhere on the Rhine. The intensely interesting characters are Miss Ruth Schadel, as Ottile, a Princess of Gondolivia, and her brother, Prince Edward, Ralph Lloyd, who are masquerading in this country, the one as an entertainer in the cafe and the other as a college student. These are only two of the many interesting characters that make up the play's personnel. A cast and choruses of approximately fifty, are required for the production.

Henry S. Barrett, director from the Rogers Company, of Fostoria, who are staging the show, has been hard at work rounding out the preliminaries of starting rehearsals, etc., and selecting the cast.

Mrs. Robert A. Craig, and her assisting committees are in charge of business arrangements and will put through an active campaign to raise funds for the school traffic lights debt, for whose benefit the show will be produced.

Mrs. and Mrs. Leonard Korn, of Jeffersonville, entertained four tables of bridge, Saturday evening, for a delightful party and carried out Halloween symbols in the very effective decorations. Black cats were over the fireplace with fiddle sticks and lighted pumpkins contributing to the effect.

The dining room table was an outdoor scene and represented a field in autumn. Surrounded by a rail fence, the ground was covered with leaves and pumpkins, with the punch bowl in the center of the scene. Autumn flowers in artistic bouquets added a decorative touch to the living rooms.

In the progressive bridge game, Mrs. Ralph Lloyd and Mr. Max Thomas won the favors for high score.

Included in the pleasures were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dorn, Sedalia, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Miss Helen Hutson and Mr. Grove Davis, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Everett C. Dabe, Mr. and Mrs. Max Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Perill.

Mrs. Miller assisted Mrs. Korn in serving a very delicious collation at the close of the game.

Mrs. E. F. Kinnear and Mrs. James A. Crawford pleasantly entertained Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kinnear, daughters, Margie and Sammie, of Cincinnati; Mrs. Sam Kinnear and daughter, Mrs. J. Kinslow, Mrs. Fred Hoover and son, Gilbert, of Columbus.

An elaborate dinner was served at one o'clock and a buffet supper in the evening. Autumn flowers were prettily used in decoration.

In compliment to Prof. and Mrs. W. R. Westhafer, of Wooster, Mrs. Lewis H. Parrett entertained at dinner, Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ervin and niece, Miss Juanita Speaks, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Vannorsdall and three children and little Betty Woodruff, of Jeffersonville. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Woodruff joined them in the evening.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Harmony M. P. Church met with Mrs. Blanche Lafollette for its regular meeting.

The president opened the meeting, the devotionals being led by Mrs. W. M. Archer. During the business session a food sale was planned for November 25. As the next regular meeting date comes on Thanksgiving day, the meeting will be held the third Thursday of November at the home of Mrs. Clara Oswald, following the meeting, interesting readings were given by Rev. and Mrs. Archer and Mrs. John Rice. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Lafollette assisted by her daughter, Miss Wynona, and Mrs. Rella Colaw.

Mrs. Harris B. Dahl and daughter, Mrs. Willard S. Willis and Mr. Willis, delightfully entertained a family dinner Sunday evening. Covers were laid for Mrs. Webster Mathews, daughter Ann Vilas, Mr. David S. Craig Jr., of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. David S. Craig, Mrs. Carrie B. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maynard.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Jones assembled ten couples of friends Saturday evening, when they entertained a progressive heart party in compliment to their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Bruner, of Mingo Junction. It was a delightful affair, Mrs. Jones extending the hospitality most cordially and the pleasure of the guests promoted in every way.

Prizes were won in a merrily contested game by Mrs. Arch D. Woodmansee, Mr. Frank S. Jackson and Mrs. S. A. Dewey. Favors were also given to Mr. and Mrs. Bruner, whose friends greatly enjoyed the opportunity of visiting with them.

Garden flowers were prettily decorative throughout the home, roses and chrysanthemums especially admired.

After the game Mrs. Jones served a delicious buffet supper. Miss Myrtle McCoy assisted in the hospitality.

The B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church, represented by thirty-five members, assembled in the church home, Saturday evening, for a masquerade party. The home was appropriately decorated with fiddle, pumpkins and the Halloween and plans were carried out for a very jolly evening.

Contests and apple-bobbing provided hilarious entertainment and the serving of appetizing refreshments was followed by more games. Everyone came masked and there was a variety of pretty and ridiculous costumes.

Mrs. Doris Willis Dick met with a very painful accident in a fall at her home, the Dolly Madison Inn, of Bloomington, Sunday afternoon. The bone in the left arm was broken. Dr. E. H. McDonald set the broken bone, after which she was motored to the office of Dr. L. L. Brock for an X-ray.

Mrs. James Glascock, daughter, Mrs. James C. Beam and son, Carroll, of Cincinnati, were guests of Miss Fannie Persinger over the week end, Miss Persinger motoring with them to Circleville for the wedding of a nephew, Mr. Charles Pugsley and Miss Sarah Elizabeth Swearingen.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hurlig were motorists in Columbus Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Matson and son, of Cincinnati, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Newberry and daughter, Wilma, motoring with them to Columbus Sunday afternoon to see the Marx Brothers in person.

Byron McCoy, who has been in Wheeling, W. Va., with the Sear's Southern Revelers, returned to his home in this city Monday, to continue his High School work. The Southern Revelers broadcasted from the Graystone ball room, over WLW Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunlap, Mrs. Edward Haffer, of Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Henry, of Los Angeles, California, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maynard.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Price and Mr. O. S. Minton spent Sunday in Mt. Vernon, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Murry and brought Mrs. Minton home from a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clement arrived from Chicago Saturday evening, called by the death of Mrs. Clement's father, Mr. Jacob Jamison. Miss Doris Jamison also came from Circleville to be with her father, Mr. Tom Jamison, for the funeral services.

Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Wade and family and Mrs. Elias Glass motored to South Charleston to be Sunday guests of Mrs. S. W. McChester.

Miss Dorothy Elliott, student at Blies College, Columbus, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Will Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ellison, daughter, Miss Hazel, and Mrs. Lizzie Corbin were Sunday guests of Dr. C. V. Shoemaker and family in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Judy and Mrs. Anna Peitsmeyer, of Columbus, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Donohue, motoring with them, Misses Lelah, Ruth and Dorothy Donohue and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Garrison, to Clarksburg to be dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Boggess and son, Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Boggess and son, Billy, motored to Point Pleasant, W. Va., to spend Sunday with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Grove and son, Paul, spent the week end with Mrs. Grove's sister, Mrs. Jesse H. Taylor, and family, in Venedosia, Ohio. Miss Mary Ellen Grove visited friends in Columbus over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Miller and daughter, Jean, spent Sunday with friends in Richmond, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughey Thompson and children and Mr. Sherman Belles motored to Piqua to be Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh E. Conwell and brought Mrs. Belles home from a several days' visit with the Conwells.

Miss Dolores Thompson returned Sunday evening from a week end visit with Miss Dorothy Foster, in Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson motored to Dayton, Sunday, after their daughter, who accompanied them to Columbus to visit with Harold Thompson at the Alpha Sigma Chi fraternity house, stopping en route for a short visit in Springfield.

Miss Emily Rowe was up from Miami University, Oxford, for a week end visit with her mother, Mrs. Jessie Rowe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Rogers motored to Huntington, W. Va., to spend the week end and the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers.

Prof. W. R. Westhafer, of Wooster, Dean and acting president of Wooster College, and Mrs. Westhafer visited over the week end with Mrs. Westhafer's mother, Mrs. Lewis H. Parrett.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hagerty motored to Cincinnati Saturday to attend the Horse Show, sponsored by the Junior League, at the Cincinnati Riding Club and remained the guest of friends for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Frey and daughter, Frances Marian came from Dayton to spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Black and Miss Rosella Frey. Mrs. Phoebe Frey, who has been with her son and family for several weeks, accompanied them over and back to their Dayton home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Betillion, of Waverly, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Wikle.

Mrs. Albert Bachert and daughter, Miss Helen, of Springfield, visited Mrs. Bachert's mother, Mrs. A. A. Hyer, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith visited their son, Mr. Dana Smith, and Mrs. Smith, in Circleville, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch J. Middlesworth, Miss Mary Jane Giffin and Max Williams motored over from Dayton to spend Sunday with Mrs. Minnie Flee and family.

Mr. Clyde Cramer was a week end guest in Athens and attended the Ohio University-Ohio Wesleyan game.

Mr. Will Bishop, Mr. Billy Stone and Mr. George Finke, of Evansville, Ind., are visiting Mrs. Will Bishop for a couple of weeks.

LIVING AND LOVING

BY VIRGINIA LEE

"DEAR MISS LEE: I have just read 'G's' letter in answer to Pegg, and I just can't resist confiding in someone, as I am another Pegg."

"My case is similar to hers. I also am in love with a fellow whom I will call No. 1. He went away and I went with No. 2. Well, No. 2 fell in love with me and everybody considers me his future wife."

"No. 1 came back, and I'm sure he still cares for me, but (like most fellows) he will not ask me to go out, although he knows I still care for him. You see, my No. 1 and No. 2 happen to be close friends, and I just can't hurt No. 2's feelings by telling him about No. 1. I will have to follow in Pegg's footsteps and try to forget No. 1 although I know it's impossible."

"Miss Lee, why not ask some of these chaps who think they are the No. 2's, to write and give us their opinion?"

"JUST ANOTHER PEGG."

All right, boys, please step forward and tell us whether you would rather marry the girl you love (even if she doesn't care for some one else).

I can tell you, Pegg, that probably there would be as many different answers as there were boys to write. Some would put the girl's happiness ahead of their own and give their sweethearts up rather than marry them under the circumstances.

Others would be sure that if they married the girl they could make her care for them. Which would possess the greater love for her, do you think?

And then, have you ever thought that maybe you or the other Peggs may be mistaken in their feelings and find, after going back to No. 1 that it was No. 2 they preferred after all?

And another thing, isn't it possible that Pegg would do No. 2 a greater wrong by marrying him, knowing that she loved someone else, than by telling him the truth?

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Worrell and daughter, Miss Claribel motored to Cincinnati Sunday to visit briefly with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Browne and family and to take Miss Elizabeth Browne home from a visit here.

Mr. T. T. Beatty and daughter, Miss Marie, came from Columbus for a week end visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beatty and daughters, Jane and Nancy.

Mrs. Webster Mathews and daughter, Ann Vilas, of Columbus, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Craig over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Smith, who have been making their home with Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Edward McKee, returned Saturday to their former home in Dayton, where they will now reside and Mr. Smith make headquarters for the Drug Products Co., of Long Island City, with which he is associated.

Their removal is regretted by many Washington Court House friends.

Miss Lena May returned to her home in New Holland, Monday, after a three weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kearns, of Amelia, and with relatives in Batavia and Hyde Park, Cincinnati.

DEAR DIARY

The story of A girl who went to New York for fame and fortune.

TUESDAY NIGHT. self, trying to pass for a New Yorker. DEAR DIARY: I really meant to write to you earlier today—about last night. But I've been thinking—not that that does much good, I've concluded.

But Paul and I went to Tony's—and it is a high-brow speak, with dollar drinks and evening clothes as thick as they can stick all over the place.

I felt pretty doggy, too, in the old chiffon, which was new to Paul, and Sue's rabbit fur jacket, which I'm sure nobody mistook for ermine. Perhaps, on account of the depression, no one held it against me.

He said—"I'll bet you've never had your foot on the rail?" "What rail—what foot?" "Any rail—your right foot?" "It would be the wrong foot."

"Thanks, darling, for your sense of humor—I was beginning to get worried."

"No worryin', now—promise!" "Never make promises," he was smiling, and leading me over to the little bar, which didn't look like I'd imagined one should look.

"What?" I said, "no sawdust?" I climbed up on a high red stool and Paul stood beside me, with his foot on the shining brass rail running about the little red lacquered thing they called a bar.

"No sawdust. But would you like a Martini?" "I'd rather have a soft drink." Even the bartender grinned.

"You sound like a Southerner—by the way, are you?" asked Paul. "New Yorker," I smiled. "Fibber," he said. "Please."

"Once I was a small-towner myself, trying to pass for a New Yorker."

"A-way-back-when—eh?" "A-way-back-when," he smiled, and I couldn't help but say to myself, "It must have been a mighty long time ago. You're so at home in New York. So sophisticated. Only a long time in this so-sophisticated place could make you like that."

I wonder, Diary, how long I'll have to be here before I can feel naturally as easy as I try to pretend I feel.

I thought I did pretty well—keeping up with his chatter there. I was proud of my achievement—I mean, at the time I felt it was that—I did so want to make a hit with him—I mean, still more of a hit than I had. . . . I suppose a girl never is satisfied until she feels she virtually has dangled a man's scalp. . . .

PERRY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Perry Township Farm Bureau folks will be held this Friday evening, November 6 at the Township House, New Martinsburg. Their program has been arranged with Mr. Corliss Becker, District Farm Bureau representative as the speaker. Mr. E. A. Carson is chairman.

Well, Brisbane, it's more than two years since you wrote any of those rosy skits saying how every laborer can get rich by buying a share of stock and sitting tight.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little-sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

es that President Hoover lacked knowledge of naval matters and was attempting to "starve" the sea service, Breckinridge said: "I desire to dissociate myself from so much of the statement as speaks with disrespect of the President of the United States."

His terse statement, the first public sign of disagreement in league membership with its president, broke the temporary lull in the controversy with Mr. Hoover.

The Chief Executive is awaiting a roster of the league before naming a committee to investigate its charges against his naval policies. He has already branded the accusations as "untruths and distortions of fact" and warned Gardner he would expect a correction and an apology at the conclusion of the inquiry.

Secretary Adams in his attack on the world peace foundation, recalled its publication of what he believed was "a most surprising revelation" that the American navy has credits in the fiscal year 1930 totaling $553,378,605 against appropriations of $242,550,711 for the British navy.

Actual expenditures of $375,291,828 during the year were listed by Adams for the American fleet, with those of Great Britain estimated at $349,927,670.

PREVENTS THIEF FROM STEALING CAR

Special officer C. F. Wike, coming up Fayette street near the Armory, Saturday night around 8:30, discovered a youth in the act of stealing an automobile, but the fellow leaped from the car and fled making his escape in the darkness.

The fellow left the car doors open, and several other cars were found in the same vicinity where the doors had been left ajar as the thief had endeavored to start cars but found them without keys, or found that keys he possessed would not turn the switch.

RUSSIA SIDES WITH JAPAN AGAINST

will remain at Kirin to protect Japanese interests.

It was explained Japan's stand regarding evacuation of Chinese territory was the same as in the beginning, and would again be explained in Tokyo's reply to China's note offering to open direct negotiations for settlement of the Manchurian controversy on the basis of the League of Nations resolution. Japan's reply probably will be made public tonight.

In considering the reports of a Sino-Russian rapprochement, official circles considered it possible that some such understanding may have been responsible for China's recent stiffening in attitude toward Japan.

From War Minister Minami the cabinet heard a report based on rumors that Russia was giving assistance to the Chinese, not only in arms and ammunition but also in moral support.

The vernacular press continued to publish rumors saying the Russians were massing troops at Pochinichaya and Manchuli, respectively on the eastern and western boundaries of Manchuria, but in Russian territory.

Details of the alleged rapprochement, supposedly signed at Manchuli, also were published in the newspapers. The Russians allegedly agreed to provide the Chinese Heilongjiang army, operating in Northern Manchuria, with substantial aid.

Both the war and foreign office emphasized, however, that reports of Russian troops concentrations were based chiefly on rumors.

a shack about four miles from the Indian reservation. She donned Indian costume and attended several of the tribal dances with young Indians.

She was warned by reservation officials that she might be subjecting herself to danger if she became too inquisitive and ventured too much alone with the Indians, but she continued her researches. She was last seen alive on the afternoon of July 18, shortly before she was to attend a tribal dance with Claude Gilbert, an Apache. He later was arrested but was exonerated.

Her mutilated body, clad in Indian dress, was found the next morning in a ravine.

to the President's daughter," which Miss Britton claims reflected discredit on her reputation.

Miss Britton's own book said the late President Warren G. Harding was the father of her 12-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Ann. Klunk's defense of the libel charge was included testimony concerning Miss Britton's reputation, from some of her acquaintances, and an attempt to prove her reputation was not damaged by the answering volume which denied her claims of clandestine meetings with the late president.

Judge Killis today said the mysterious depositions of a New York hotel submitted as evidence by Miss Britton's attorney will be preserved in the records of the case for use only in an evident appeal to a higher court. He has impounded the deposition and ordered that its nature or contents are not to be revealed to the jurors nor to the public during the present trial.

In issuing his order, Judge Killis commented he was informed many spectators were attending the trial solely in the hope of hearing "filthy and lascivious testimony" and that he feels he has the right to bar spectators from the trial on that ground. The order specifically mentioned newspaper reporters, attorneys not connected with the case, and spectators in general.

POLITICAL TREND IS UNFOLDING

Halsey, endorsed by the Anti-Saloon League, has added interest to the contest, since both Moore and Baird have sponsored repeal of Eighteenth amendment. In Kentucky, a gubernatorial race has been enlivened by a controversy over the administration of the state highway commission by Ben Johnson, Democrat. William B. Harrison, Republican nominee for governor has opposed, and Ruby Laffoon, Democratic candidate, has endorsed the commission's policies.

The Pennsylvania Republican organization is attempting to take the measure of Governor Pinchot in the Allegheny county commissioner contest. The regular Republican leader, J. G. Armstrong, of Pittsburgh, is running against C. C. McGovern, a Pinchot Independent Republican, and David L. Lawrence, Democratic candidate.

The formality of electing Democratic nominees to state offices will be staged in Mississippi, where Mike Connor won the gubernatorial nomination. Nomination is tantamount to election there.

MARKETS and FINANCIAL NEWS

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER

New York, Nov. 2.—(P)—The securities markets began the new month carefully today.

Bonds felt the reinvestment demand resulting from interest, dividend disbursements and maturities paid, amounting to more than $1,000,000,000. Bullish operations in stocks switched to the oils.

Standard Oils of New Jersey and California, Texas Corp., and Prairie Pipe rallied a point or so in fairly active buying. Similar advances appeared in U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and American Can, while American Telephone at its best was 3 points higher. National Biscuit, Corn Products, Sears Roebuck, North American, Columbian Carbon and Western Union rallied at least 2 points. Case and International Harvester were strong in sympathy with the recent buoyancy of the grain markets. Ralls, however, were sluggish.

The bullish activity in the oils was based on firmer crude prices in the Mid-Continent, and forecasts of higher prices in California. Furthermore, payment of the regular extra dividend of 25 cents by Standard of N. J. was encouraging.

A further slump in foreign exchange rates, particularly the French franc, was regarded as decisive evidence that the panicky inroads upon American monetary gold stocks by foreign interests was definitely at an end. The French franc is now well below the level at which it is profitable to take gold from New York. The pound sterling also declined precipitantly, presumably reflecting a withdrawal of support, and an end of security liquidation and withdrawal of funds from this market by London interests.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM WALL STREET

New York, Nov. 2.—(P)—Complete returns on new commercial automobile registrations in the United States during September showed a total of 25,967, compared with 27,070 in August, and 33,933 in September last year.

Louis Segal, president of Segal Lock and Hardware Co., said the company has paid off all of its debts to banks, totalling approximately $560,000.

Market Report

Fayette Producers' Association

Total receipts to the Fayette Producers' Association last week, October 26—31 amounted to 36 decks, an increase over the preceeding week. The different species of livestock amounted to 2553 head, including 2032 hogs, 144 calves and cattle and 377 sheep and lambs.

Patrons received for top hogs last week $5.15 per cwt. Top calves $8.25, per cwt.; top lambs $5.65.

Today's (Monday) hog market at Chicago with 50,000 hogs and an extreme top of $5 found itself 40c lower than Monday, a week ago with 55,000 hogs. The average cost of hogs for September was $5.10, the lowest since January, 1908.

The Fayette Producers' Association offers a daily market service to livestock farmers of the county and a continuous outlet for livestock.

WOOL MARKET
Boston, Nov. 2.—(P)—(U. S. Dept. of Agr.)—Reports of strength in four prominent wool markets and increases in production in several countries had a tendency to boost the market in spite of limited current demands. The recent ease in domestic wool prices was rather moderate and took place on very small turn-overs. Receipts at Boston were 432,900 pounds on Nov. 1, as compared with 366,100 pounds the previous week.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

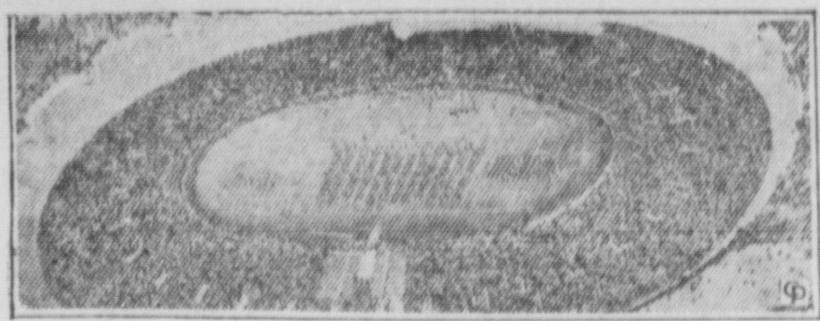

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN

Chicago, Nov. 2.—(P)—Successful rushes to buy wheat future deliveries swept the market almost 3 cents higher late today. An outstanding feature was expectation that Russia would not be able to export any further grain this season save rye, and was likely also to withdraw from world wheat competition for another year in addition. At the day's maximum prices, the market showed more than 20 cents a bushel advance since the season's low point Oct. 5, a rise of about 40 per cent in values.

Wheat closed turbulent, 1 1/2@2 cents above Saturday's finish, corn 1/2@3/4c up, oats 1/4@3/8c advanced, and provisions showing a rise of 2 to 30 cents.

Rotterdam advices that Russian wheat quotations had soared 2 guilders in some cases gave added impetus to the upward trend of prices here. Monthly unofficial domestic crop summaries were also

Miami Only Obstacle in Path of Athenians

By JAMES L. RENICK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Two conference football championships were almost clinched Saturday afternoon on rain-soaked, frigid fields when Ohio Wesleyan trampled over Ohio Wesleyan at Athens, 18 to 0, and Defiance College gave Bowling Green its first league defeat in 15 starts, 15 to 0. Ohio now stands undefeated at the top of the Buckeye Athletic Association race and Defiance is in a like position in the Northwest Ohio Conference.

Ohio has a pair of games remaining on its schedule, one with DePauw this Saturday and the season's final with Miami next week. However, the Oxford game is the only thing DePauw and Co. has to fear as a defeat from DePauw would not count in the standings as the Indiana school is only a probationary member of the circuit.

Muskingum kept in the undefeated and untied class Saturday by turning back Cincinnati, 15 to 0. This week the Muskies will entertain Wooster for their homecoming attraction.

Wittenberg and Baldwin-Wallace also remained undefeated, the Springfield eleven defeated Heidelberg, 14 to 7, and Baldwin-Wallace ran up a 31 to 0 score over Kent. This week Wittenberg will play its only B. A. A. game of the season, taking on Miami at Oxford, while Baldwin-Wallace plays Ashland at home.

Miami stayed in a second position tie in the Buckeye by defeating Denison, 19 to 0. This week Cincinnati and Denison will fight it out for last place when they meet at Granville.

Case took its ancient foe Wooster, 7 to 6 this week the scientists play at Hiram.

In other games Saturday Kenyon piled up a 44 to 0 count over Capital, Ashland beat Akron, 13 to 6. Otterbein passed its way to a 13 to 0 victory over Marietta. Otterbein will entertain Kenyon this week, Akron will play at Oberlin and Marietta will journey to Ada to meet Ohio Northern. Capital will play at Kent.

Dayton rolled up a 63 to 0 count over Transylvania and Saturday will meet Xavier at Cincinnati. Western Reserve won its second game of the season Saturday, downing Oberlin 7 to 0, but seems destined for another licking this week when it goes to Syracuse.

Rio Grande won its first home game of the season Saturday, stopping Cedarville 31 to 6 and Wilmington won its initial game, either at home or abroad, trouncing Alliance College from Cambridge Springs, Pa., 52 to 0. Wilmington and Cedarville will meet Saturday on the latter team's field.

Wesleyan will play an intersectional game at Providence, R. I., where it meets Brown. Mount Union will act as host to Detroit Tech; Grove City will play at John Carroll, Earlham and Bluffton and Findlay at Bowling Green in the only northwest Ohio game on the books.

The center of attraction this week will be at Columbus where Ohio State plays an intersectional contest with the Navy eleven which was held to a 0 to 0 tie Saturday by West Virginia Wesleyan while the Buckeyes were stopping Indiana 13 to 6.

Big Teams In Action

A strong Michigan eleven, led by a quartet of hard-running backs, added a midwestern flavor to Princeton's long list of defeats by defeating the Tigers, 21 to 0. Outplayed, although not outfought, a brave Princeton team, pitted against a stronger opponent, could not cope with the running and passing tactics of the invading Wolverine machine. A kick from behind the Princeton goal line is shown being blocked by Dunn, Michigan back.

Dazed by the terrific and diversified offensive unleashed by a superior Northwestern gridiron machine the sophomore eleven from Illinois fell in defeat at Dyche Stadium, Evanston, by a score of 32 to 6. The first touchdown of the game is shown being made by "Pug" Rentner, Northwestern right half.

Before a crowd of 52,000 the Notre Dame eleven trounced Carnegie Tech by a score of 19 to 0. One of the outstanding events of the game was a brilliant 59 yard run for a touchdown by Marchmont Schwartz. Carnegie Tech's left halfback, Armentrout, is shown running around the Irish end for a short gain.

FORMER LOWLY GATE GUARD NOW STAR ON IRISH LINE

South Bend, Ind.—(P)—Frank Nordoff Hoffman stood guard at the gate to Cartier field, where the 1928 Notre Dame football team was having secret drill.

Frank was one of the horde of freshman assistant student football managers. Awkward, gangling, he was taking his college football vicariously, hoping to rise in the managerial ranks.

Came his sophomore year and Frank, a little older and a little more compactly built, was still guarding the gate, picking up head-gears for the varsity, totting water to perspiring athletes.

He never had played football at St. Martin's prep school in his home town, Seattle, Wash. But he had aspirations to be a weight man on the Irish track squad, so in the spring of his sophomore year he reported for football just because he figured it would build up his arms and shoulders.

It did. It also built up his ambition. He found he could give and take in scrimmage without being broken in two.

Then came a few words of encouragement from Coach Hunk Anderson and Nordy forgot all about becoming a lieutenant in the student managerial corps.

Now he carries 204 pounds easily and confidently on his six foot two inch frame and is the regular right guard on what experts say is one of the greatest of Notre Dame's many great forward walls.

League Scores

By The Associated Press
Abbie Booth, Yale and Bill McCull, Dartmouth—Each ran wild to score three touchdowns in 33 to 33 tie.

Mark Temple, Oregon—Accompanied for both touchdowns in defeat of New York University, scoring one himself and tossing pass for the other.

Stanley Fay, Michigan—Led Wolverines to victory over Princeton with pair of touchdowns.

Marchmont Schwartz, Notre Dame—Gained 188 yards in 23 attempts against Carnegie Tech.

Johnny Farraro, Cornell—Scored one of Cornell's two touchdowns against Columbia and passed to Jose Martinez Zorrilla for the other.

Dusty Allen, Stanford—His 35-yard pass to Don Colvin in last nine seconds of play gave Stanford victory over U. C. L. A.

Rip Slusser, North Carolina—Scored three touchdowns against North Carolina State.

Badger Cage Coach Gets Sought After Tail Boys

Yankton, S. D.—(P)—Dr. Walter E. Menzies, veteran basketball coach at the University of Wisconsin whose constant cry is for taller material, can have no kick on South Dakota's latest contribution.

Ray Hamann, all-state guard from Yankton high school, and six feet, four inches tall, and "Lofty" Humbrecht of Waubay, S. D., who towers six feet, seven inches, have matriculated at Wisconsin.

CAPTAINCIES DISTRIBUTED

Milwaukee, Wis.—(P)—Captains of Marquette University football teams in the last 15 years have represented every position on the team. This year, however, no captain will be chosen, but a field leader will be named before each game.

Admission Price Is Reduced For Ohio-Navy Game

Columbus, O., Nov. 2—(P)—Twelve thousand general admission tickets for the Navy-Ohio State football game will be placed on sale Saturday morning at the stadium at $1.50, athletic officials of the University announced today.

Originally all tickets were priced at $3.00 and the action taken today was in response to requests in recent weeks from patrons who wished to see the homecoming game but did not feel they could afford the regular price.

With the price decrease in 12,000 seats officials estimated a crowd of near 60,000 will see the game.

PRO. FOOTBALL LEAGUE RATES

Columbus, O., Nov. 2—(P)—The Green Bay Packers took undisputed possession of first place in the National Football League by defeating the Chicago Bears, 6 to 0, 2 yesterday. Portsmouth, which had been tied for the lead position, lost its first game of the season to the New York Giants, 14 to 0.

Stapleton and Providence battled to a 7 to 7 tie while the Chicago Cardinals beat Brooklyn, 14 to 7.

SPORTLIGHT

ON BIG TEN THIS WEEK

West Coast Comes in to Take Some Interest with Stiff Games

TITLES ARE AT STAKE

Intersectional Games in East in Background

By HERBERT W. BARKER

New York, Nov. 2—(P)—The Big Ten and the Pacific Coast Conference continue to swing on a searchlight upon themselves this week despite another array of important intersectional tests.

In the Big Ten, Northwestern and Minnesota, the only untied unbeaten conference teams, are matched in a battle that almost certainly will decide the title. Especially does this hold true if Northwestern wins.

In the Pacific coast race, Southern California, with four conference victories, will clash with Stanford, unbeaten but tied by Washington. With all other conference teams beaten at least once, this struggle virtually will determine the 1931 champion.

The situation is less clearly defined in other major conferences. All the standards are Georgia, Tulane and Tennessee in the South; Southern Methodist and Texas Christian in the Southwest; Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Syracuse in the East; Nebraska and Kansas State in the Big Six; Utah and the Utah Aggies in the Rocky Mountain group; and Notre Dame among the midwest independents.

This week's intersectional warfare finds Notre Dame again involved in an important fray. The Hammers will stay at home at South Bend to entertain Pennsylvania, undefeated and untied.

Georgia will come north again, this time to tackle New York University; Detroit will battle Fordham, undefeated but tied; Navy will play Ohio State at Columbus; Washington & Jefferson will go west to clash with Marquette at Milwaukee; Louisiana State will battle Army at West Point; Virginia will face its second straight Eastern foe in Columbia; Arkansas will tangle with Chicago and Centenary will play Purdue. Brown and Syracuse will play small-college teams from the midwest, Ohio Wesleyan and Western Reserve respectively.

Within the conferences the schedule and its bearing on championship races can be outlined briefly thus:

East: Dartmouth, after its 33 to 33 tie with Yale, must tackle undefeated Harvard; Pitt plays Carnegie Tech, Villanova meets Temple; Bucknell tackles Georgetown and Colgate faces Penn State in other big time games. Cornell one of the best, takes it easy with Alfred and Princeton should get back into the winning column against Lehigh. Yale plays St. John's of Maryland.

Big Ten: Minnesota and Northwestern clash in the big battle. Other conference games pit Wisconsin against Illinois and Indiana against Michigan with Wisconsin and Michigan the favorites.

Big Six: Kansas State, tied with Nebraska for the lead, faces improved Iowa State and Kansas plays Oklahoma. Nebraska and Missouri plays non-conference foes the former battling Iowa of the Big Ten and Missouri facing Drake of the Missouri Valley Conference Friday night.

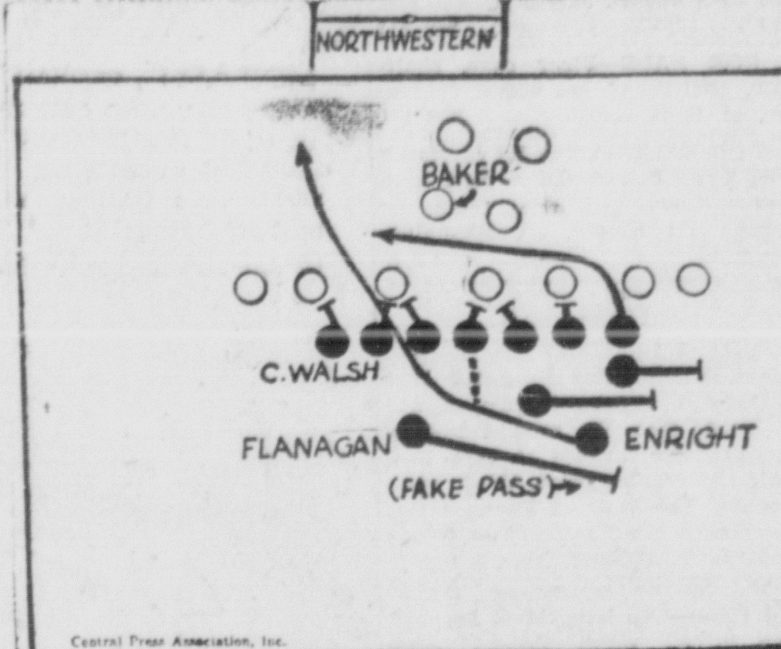

South: With Georgia in the North and Tennessee taking on Carson-Newman in the breather Tulane holds the spotlight with its tussle against Auburn. Eight other games are on the conference list, involving Maryland and Vanderbilt; North Carolina and Georgia Tech; Virginia Poly and Washington & Lee; Duke and Kentucky; Alabama and Florida; Sewanee and Mississippi; Clemson and Virginia Military; and North Carolina State and Mississippi A. and M.

Veteran Hurler Remarries Wife

St. Paul, Nebraska, Nov. 2—(P)—Grover Cleveland Alexander of baseball pitching fame said today that he and Mrs. Alexander were remarried in Rockford, Ill., June 2, 1931. They are visiting his mother, Mrs. Wm. Alexander, and his brothers W. C. and Alva Alexander.

Rockne's Best Plays

By COACH EDWARD (SLIP) MADIGAN

Wildcats knew this was coming—but couldn't stop it!

Knute Rockne won more than one important football battle in the dressing room.

Rockne goaded or cajoled, whipped or coddled, stung or flattered—to fit the occasion. He seemed to possess a canny sense for just what kind of tonic the boys needed to stir them to the proper fighting pitch. And once started on his oratorical chores he could spread it on thick.

If vermouth was needed Rockne could pour it on and sear it in. Once he broke down and cried between halves and he was really sincere about it. It moved the team to a crushing victory.

Another time he worked his boys to such a fighting pitch that instead of opening the door on the way out they kicked it down! That is a fact. The reason I know is because I was on the squad and smashed one panel in myself.

Rockne pulled a good one in the fall of 1925 between halves of the game against Glenn Thistlethwaite's Northwestern team. Notre Dame had a fine, unbeaten team that year—a lot of good players, Chile Walsh, Christy Flanagan, Charley Reilly, Ray Dahman, Vance McNally, Rex Enright and others.

Northwestern had the mighty Moon Baker, a great back, but otherwise the team wasn't much of a threat.

The game was played at South Bend. Notre Dame had never lost a battle on its home grounds, old Cartier field. But Rockne, somehow, couldn't heckle his boys into taking that game seriously.

The Notre Dame team looked terrible in the first half. Baker ran through the Fighting Irish for a touchdown and later booted a perfect field goal.

So at half time Notre Dame was trailing 10 to 0. It seemed certain that the great string of home field victories was going to crash.

Rockne knew that if he could just get the Notre Dame team to beat down hard and play ball they could beat Northwestern in the remaining 30 minutes. But they hadn't been doing it all through the first half and Rock was pretty sore.

He delayed his entrance into the dressing room for a few minutes. When he finally strode in the boys were all sitting around, cars creaked, waiting for the storm to break. Knute made a laconic talk. He said:

"You fellows have thrown Notre Dame down. You've thrown me down. I'm through with you. I'm going up in the grandstand and watch the rest of the game from there."

He didn't say another word, but went out and picked a seat with the bleacher coaches.

The effect on the team was precisely what he pictured it would be.

The team was now without a leader. An argument at once sprung up among the players as to which should start the second half. Every man on the squad was crazy to get in there.

Finally Red Edwards, captain of the 1925 team, who hadn't been in the game yet settled that by declaring himself the boss.

"We'll start the second half," he said, "with the same gang that looked so terrible in there in the first half. With one exception. That's me. And I'm going to be in there."

Northwestern opened the third quarter by kicking off to Rex Enright. Enright was a big, clumsy-looking fullback from Rec Moines,

La. He weighed about 200 pounds. Up until this game he hadn't done much. He was the type that had to be driven and riled to the proper pitch. But once he was fully aroused he was a terror.

Enright was given the ball on the first play, number 32, a simple off-tackle plunge. Boom! Twenty yards and right off tackle! The Northwestern team picked itself out of the dirt and lined up again. Zam-Seven yards off-tackle.

In five plays Notre Dame had marched 70 yards to a touchdown. Enright was the only man who carried the ball and number 32 was the only play used.

Northwestern kicked off again. Exactly five more plays and we put over another touchdown. Again Enright carried the ball every time, using the same simple off-tackle play each time. Northwestern knew what was coming but, simply couldn't resist the onslaught of a Notre Dame team out to show Rock that it hadn't thrown him down.

After that second touchdown Rockne came out of the grandstand with a big Norwegian grin on his face.

"I'll take it all back, boys," was what he said.

Notre Dame won the game 13 to 10. The boys had put one over on Rock, but Knute was satisfied. He had put another victory over.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

For the time being, the unemployment situation in amateur athletic circles may be alleviated considerably by the work required to select the year's outstanding athlete, to whom the James E. Sullivan Memorial Medal is to go for 1931.

The award is sponsored by the Amateur Athletic Union of the votes of 600 sports leaders in all parts of the country. Last year it went to Robert T. Jones, Jr. There wasn't much debate as to Jones' fitness to receive this signal honor but it's another story—and a headache—this year when it comes to picking out the top half-dozen among the amateur performers, let alone one individual standout.

Take the golf brigade, for example. The most dramatic conquest of the year was achieved by Francis Ouimet in winning the amateur crown again, exactly 17 years after he had last won this championship. But there is also the rise of Helen Hicks to consider—this 20-year old girl overthrew Glenna Collett Vare as the climax to an exceptional year. There was Billy Howell, the youthful Virginian sensational who gave Ouimet his most sensational contest at Beverly.

No one performer in any field emerged more supreme than Helen Willis Moody in women's tennis. She completed another campaign without the loss of a single set or being extended by any rival. More spectacular, however, was the performance of H. Ellsworth Vines of California in vaulting to the national men's championship at Forest Hills at the age of 19.

GREAT THROUGHOUT

It's a difficult job, too, to select any one outstanding athlete in track and field sports.

Frank Wykoff proved the best 100 yard dash man in the country, competing in the far west, mid-west and east.

The lanky Alabama boy, Percy Beard, lowered the world high hurdle record of 11.1 seconds at Lincoln in one of the finest performances of the year, but even this was scarcely as noteworthy as the achievement of Jess Mortensen in shattering the world death-on record in his first year as an all-around star.

Vic Williams and Ben Eastman, the coast's great pair of college middle distance aces, both tied the world record for the 440 and Williams emerged as the national champion.

Helene Madison of Seattle continued her reign as the queen of the mermaids, gaining possession of an unprecedented number of world records.

Polo's famous Tommy Hitchcock was not the outstanding figure he has been in international years sharing the season's honors with Earle A. S. Hopping and Capt. "Pat" Roark of England.

For sheer determination courage and the conquering spirit against all obstacles, our choice likely would be Ouimet, Vines and Mortensen. All three came through unexpectedly and with considerable dramatic flourish.

LIGHT BENEATH BASKET

"If he happened to be on a major team—"

Probably that remark is made about no fewer than 5,000 college football players before, during and after the season, but it applies nevertheless to a young ball-toter named Louis Bush of Massachusetts State college.

Bush weighs only 140 pounds and is just 5 feet 6 inches tall. He is the east's leading touchdown maker and one of the flashiest backs to bob up in the old Bay state in some time.

He has starred at basketball and baseball as well as football which puts him on a par with Abbie Booth of Yale in everything except a place in the spotlight.

Ring Program For the Week

New York, Nov. 2—(P)—Title defenses by Christopher (Batt) Battalino, king of the featherweights, and Maxie Rosenbloom, light heavyweight champion, enliven an otherwise uninteresting fiat program this week.

Rosenbloom puts his crown in jeopardy at Kansas City tonight when he faces Battling Boze, in a 12-round encounter.

Battalino on the other hand, may have his hands full fighting his featherweight toga when he clashes with Earl Mastro, speedy Chicago veteran, at Chicago, Wednesday night.

READ THIS FIRST:

Lois Corbin, a pretty working girl, falls in love with Bruce Derrand, who is from one of the wealthiest families in Chicago. Ashamed to let him know where she lives, Lois goes to share an apartment with Margaret and Arlene, two girl friends. Bruce spends all of his time with Lois, and takes her to the nicest places in Chicago to dine and dance. One day he tells her that he has a surprise for her, and when she gets with him that evening he tells her that his mother and father are dead and that his Uncle Charles has raised him. Lois is surprised to hear this, but she is more surprised when Bruce slips his mother's diamond on her finger and tells her that he loves her. Margaret and Lois spend a great deal of time on Lois the night that she is going to the country club with Bruce. After she is all dressed Margaret insists that she wear beads that belong to Arlene. Bruce arrives and is admiring Lois in her beautiful new formal when Arlene comes into the room. Arlene makes herself very noticeable by lighting Bruce's cigarette for him and in other ways. When she sees that Lois has on her beads she takes that chance to embarrass her. Lois is hurt at first, but she soon forgets about it when she is transplanted into the beautiful world that is the North Shore Country club. Lois notices that one woman who has been introduced to her as Mrs. Hayes follows her around all evening just as they are ready to go home she pounces upon Lois, claiming that Lois is one of the burglars who looted her home the week before. Bruce is terribly angry, and asks Mrs. Hayes to step inside the dressing room because she is causing a scene. Mrs. Hayes proves that the dress Lois has on is one that was stolen from her home. Lois tells them that she purchased the dress in a second-hand store on Clark street. Mrs. Hayes agrees to drop the case, since Lois is a friend of Bruce's, but she intimates that she is going to let his aunt know about the affair. Lois cannot keep from crying when Bruce says "good night" to her. She tells Margaret all about it, and even though she is somewhat consoled by her, Lois has a feeling that her picture, together with a complete write-up of the incident at the club, will be in the morning paper. (NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

Lois looked at the signature before she read the letter.

on expensive, scented stationery. The postmark was Winnetka, Ill., and the handwriting was that of a woman. Lois was almost afraid to open it. She tried to imagine what was in it; from whom it could be.

Then, with a quick, nervous gesture, she tore open the envelope. It was from Mrs. Hayes. Lois looked at the signature before she read the letter.

"My dear Miss Corbin," it said. "I wish to apologize for the very bad situation which I caused last evening. I am very impulsive and did not stop to consider anything further than that that was my dress, and my natural supposition was that you had taken it from my home. I trust you will find it in your heart to forgive."

"Yours very sincerely," Lois read it on the way upstairs. She could hardly contain herself with joy. "Margaret, it's from Mrs. Hayes, and she's apologizing."

"She should apologize," Margaret snorted. "She's lucky that she doesn't get sued for slander. That's what would happen to her if she ever pulled anything on me like that."

Lois was thinking how happy Bruce would be to see this letter. Then she remembered that he hadn't even called her. Arlene came out from the dressing room, her silk dressing gown trailing behind her, bringing with her a scent of heavily perfumed bath powder.

"Oh," Margaret said, "I didn't know you were home. You hadn't brought the mail up."

"Why should I?" Arlene said carelessly. "There wasn't any for me."

She waited several minutes, and then she went on.

"Oh, Lois, Bruce called you."

Lois jumped up and followed Arlene back into the dressing room.

"Wh-what did he say?" Lois queried anxiously.

Arlene turned her back to Lois. "He said he was sorry, but he wouldn't be able to come down to-night. He was going to be terribly busy."

Lois caught her breath. Here it was. The beginning of it. He hadn't called her all day, and now he had called purposely at the time he knew she wouldn't be there and had left word that he couldn't come down that evening. Letting her come down—just firmly.

Lois walked into the bathroom and closed the door. Her heart was broken.

Margaret heard her crying again, so she went in.

"Now see here, Lois, I'm not going to stand for this. No man is worth crying over."

"I'll say they're not," Arlene joined in.
